JELF’s Mission: Increases to the cost of education continue to outpace inflation, driving demand for JELF interest-free loans. In 2017 to date, JELF awarded $1,00,046 in interest-free, “last dollar” loans to help 273 Jewish students fulfill their potential with undergraduate, vocational or graduate degrees. Your gift helps bridge the gap that remains between other resources available to them and the cost of higher education.

99% Repayment Rate: JELF graduates are dependable, as demonstrated by our 99% repayment rate. As they repay their loans, that money is used to fund other students, creating an extraordinary circle of giving. Many of our former loan recipients become JELF financial supporters and volunteers.

Again, thank you for your support. We are confident that the young people who benefit from this donation will, by their achievements in the years to come, create a lasting tribute to your generosity.

Sincerely,

Marianne Daniels Garber
President
